Description

This publication puts forward the view that qualifications systems are useful tools for modernising education and training.

Qualifications systems are useful tools for modernising education and training. This publication focuses on the reality of policy development in different countries. After reminding the reader that education and training systems, and therefore qualifications systems, are always closely integrated with a country's social and cultural priorities, this volume shows that there is evidence from a range of countries that learning can be enhanced by developing the recognition of learning through qualifications and by defining qualifications levels.

Readership: Development managers from development agencies either in the context of bilateral cooperation or in multilateral cooperation, including the EU and World Bank.
