

Learning from Franz L. Neumann

Law, Theory, and the Brute Facts of Political Life

By David Kettler and Thomas Wheatland

Pub Date: 26 July 2019

Binding: Hardback

Price: £199.99 / $299.95

ISBN: 9781783089970

Extent: 510 pages

Size: 1523886 x 2295817 mm /

6153 x 9229 inches

Series: Key Issues in Modern Sociology

BISAC CATEGORY: SOCIAL SCIENCE / Sociology / General

BISAC CODE: SOCo26000

BIC CODE: JHB

RIGHTS

Exclusive: WORLD

An examination of Franz Neumann's social and political theory in the context of his career as a learner and teacher

"Drawing on a wealth of new sources, painstakingly reconstructing Franz Neumann's intellectual trajectory and judiciously weighing his political interventions—including Neumann's brief, but baffling role as a Soviet informant during the Second World War—David Kettler and Thomas Wheatland have written a rich and insightful study that amply rewards our patience."

—Martin Jay, Sidney Hellman Ehrman Professor Emeritus, University of California, Berkeley, USA

"A meticulous and majestic account of the life and work of the too-often-forgotten but crucially important figure of Franz Neumann. His writings on law and democracy are still indispensable for our understanding of the Weimar Republic, Nazi Germany and Cold War America—and this book serves as an equally indispensable guide to them."

—John P. McCormick, Professor of Political Science, University of Chicago, USA

"Learning from Franz Neumann" examines the political and legal thought of Franz Neumann in relation to the contemporary decline of the social welfare state and the rise of populism.

Contents

Contents; I. The Challenge of Franz L. Neumann; II. Social Constitution, Social Power, and Responsibility: Neumann and Labor Advocacy; III. Power, Resistance, and Constitutions; IV. Franz Neumann's Commemoration of Exile; V. After Weimar: The First Exile; VI. Neumann's Second Exile: Negotiating the Politics of Research; VII. No Happy End: Unprofitable Negotiations; VIII. Behemoth: Wars Can Be Lost; IX. Franz Neumann in Washington: The Political Intellectual at War; X. Franz Neumann in the University: La guerre est finie; XI. The Legacy: Four Studies; Conclusion; Index.

About the Author(s) / Editor(s)

David Kettler immigrated to the United States in 1940. Following an advanced education in political theory at Columbia University, his long academic career has been divided among Ohio State, Trent University and Bard College. He has published 18 books as author or editor and many articles and chapters focusing on problems arising from the relations between intellectuals and the political sphere.

Thomas Wheatland, who received his BA from Brown University and his MA and PhD from Boston College in German intellectual history, is associate professor of history at Assumption College in Worcester, USA. The author of The Frankfurt School in Exile (2009), he has also written numerous articles and book chapters on critical theory and its history, the exiles from Central Europe during the Second World War and the transatlantic history of social thought in the twentieth century.

Ordering in North America

Books International
P.O. Box 605, Herndon, VA
20172-0605 United States
Tel: +1 703 661 1570 | Fax: +1 703 661 1501
bimail@presswarehouse.com

Ordering in the UK/Rest of the World

NBN International
Airport Business Centre
10 Thornbury Road
Plymouth, PL6 7PP
Tel: 01752 202301 | Fax: 01752 202333
NBNi.Orders@ingramcontent.com

Ordering in Australia

NewSouth Books
Rosie Marson
UNSW Sydney
NSW 2052, Australia
Tel: +61 (02) 8778 9999 | Fax: +61 (02) 8778 9944
orders@tldistribution.com.au